PENALTY FACES CONTRACTOR FOR DELAYING WORK

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)

HILO, July 8.—Work on the Waiolama swamp job is a long way from completion, and it is asserted that the contract will not be finished for at least two months. This will mean that the contractor will have to pay $25 per day as a fine for exceeding the time limit. Taking 25 days per month as the average number, this will mean that the contractor will have to dig up at the rate of $625 per month for extra time consumed.

The principal cause of delay is on account of the shortage of filling material. Sand from the beach is a good filler and can be easily pumped over, in water, through the big pipe lines of the plant that is established down near the Volcano Stables. Still, there is but a scanty covering of black sand along the edge of the bay and when that is stripped off, there remains only the black lava, which is useless.

It was found that the sand that was being carried down to fill the holes created by the big suction pump, was coming from along the side of the bay where the railroad tracks run. The constant washing away of the sand is said to have threatened to undermine the tracks. The matter is said to have been taken up by the railroad company and the consequence was that the contractor for the Waiolama fill had to change his plans or else face an injunction suit.

The Waiolama swamp job, as far as it has gone, is a great improvement to the city and what was at one time a horrible, dirty, stagnant mass of water, reeds and filth, is now solid ground and is already being used as a playground. The drainage canal is also doing its work all right and the whole scheme should be finished within a couple of three months from the present.

HAWAII TO HAVE COUNTY ENGINEER

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)

HILO, July 8.—The island of Hawaii is soon to have a county engineer according to report. The chairman of the board realizes that with a large sum of money to be expended in the near future on roads and other works, a competent engineer is needed. The other supervisors seem to agree with him.

The many county works that are to be carried out necessitate the employment of an engineer and this side of the matter has appealed to Chairman Samuel Kaubane.

Although it is practically decided to create the office of county engineer, the actual act has to be carried out by the board as a whole.

HILO EDITOR IS FINED; CONTEMPT OF COURT, CHARGE

HILO, Hawaii.—Judge D. E. Metzger yesterday fined Editor E. B. Bridgewater, of the Hawaii Post, $10.00 for contempt of court, in connection with the editorial which appeared in that paper entitled "When Justice is Injustice."

Defendant filed a statement in court disavowing any intention of casting disrespect on the court and declined to do anything further, though the court had intimated that the publication of an explanation in the Post to that effect would result in the dismissal of the case.

Attorney Ross argued that the publication of such an explanation, while the case was pending, would be a further contempt of court, and was extensively cross-questioned by the court as to just what his statement meant. All, however, that Attorney Ross would state was: "I advised my client that for him to publish anything in connection with this matter that would tend to influence the court one way or the other might be construed as contempt."

Editor Bridgewater declined to publish anything in the way of a disavowal, claiming he was free as a newspaper man to criticize the law and asserting that he would continue to do so as long as he saw fit.—Hilo Tribune.

NATIONAL PARKS OFFICIAL VIEWS MAUI'S SCENERY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)

WAILUKU, Maui, July 8.—Maui's scenic wonders may get some effective government boosting if the visit last week of Miss Edna M. Peltz and Miss Agnes Andreae of Washington, D. C., comes to anything. Miss Peltz is a writer who is connected with the national parks bureau, and who has been in the islands for several weeks gathering data concerning the nation's new park reservation which includes Kilauea volcano and Haleakala.

Under the guidance of Worth Aiken, the visitors toured Maui for several days, spending a night on the mountain top. They were especially fortunate in conditions, being permitted to witness that rare phenomenon known as the "Specter of the Brocken," in which the observer sees his shadow in huge proportions outlined upon the clouds. Miss Peltz was enthusiastic over the trip, and the material she has collected for her book. The parks bureau has already published eight or ten beautifully illustrated descriptive books, each dealing with one of the national parks, and it is the intention to make Hawaii's park one of this series.

PHOENIX LODGE HONORS ITS DEAD

Attorney Lorin Andrews delivered the oration at the annual memorial services of the Honolulu Lodge No. 1, held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Phoenix hall.

The program opened with a selection by the orchestra. Following the entrance of the officers, a male quartet consisting of George A. Andrews, P. C. Hall, J. K. Waisama, and H. M. Kueffer sang "We May Not Climb the Heavenly Steps."

B. L. Donelson pronounced the invocation. After the reading of the roll call, George A. Andrews sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." The address of the brotherhood was next delivered by W. S. King which was followed by a violin solo by Professor Padaynsky. Lorin Andrews then gave the address of the day. The orchestra played a selection and P. C. Hall sang the recessional.

The program was brought to a conclusion by an address by Leader J. W. Asch, another song, by the male quartet and a final selection by the orchestra.

STATUS OF EXPERIMENTAL STATION UP IN THE AIR

HILO, July 8.—That the Greenwood experimental station is branching out somewhat, is the opinion of some persons, while others declare that the place is a failure. In order to talk over certain matters in connection with the proposition the subject will be taken up at the regular meeting of the Board of Trade of Hilo on Tuesday next.

Now that a new superintendent is in charge of the station, certain changes have been proposed and it is the wish of the head office of all experiment stations that the board of trade advise what is thought best.

At the meeting on Tuesday the matter of disposing of the stock now in the experimental station's paddocks will also be taken up.

LIBERTY MAGNET FOR BIG CROWDS

A particularly large crowd—large even for Sunday evening—was in attendance at the Liberty theater last night and there were two excellent reasons. The final episode of "Pearl of the Army" was presented and a large number of mysteries cleared away and a number of unexpected surprises given those who have followed this serial closely. The second, and the most excellent, reason was the appearance of George Beban, most delightful of all interpreters of foreign characters, in "His Sweetheart"—not only played, but written by Beban.

George Beban stands in a class by himself in his understanding of the many elements that go to make up America's cosmopolitan population. His forte is the Italian and it is as an Italian ice vender and "politese" that he is seen in his latest success—a quaint, appealing photodrama; an alluring story of life as it is lived every day in any large American city; a tale filled with pathos and passing comedy. "His Sweetheart" comes near to being a masterpiece of the film art.

Besides the work of Beban there are two strong outstanding impersonations, Sarah Kernan appears as "His Sweetheart"—his mother, a quaint little Italian woman just "over" from her sunny Italy to join her only boy and Helen Jerome Eddy is seen as Trina Capino who, in secret, dearly loves Joe Piccirilli and is heartbroken to learn that he is bringing a sweetheart from Italy, but not when she meets that sweetheart. For those desiring action "His Sweetheart" also pleases, as there is a story of a district attorney cleaning up a gang of crooks entering into the plot of the trials and tribulations of Joe, Mamma Mia and Trina.

CALIFORNIA GIRL WEDS ARMY MAN

A pretty romance, involving a local army officer and a California girl, which had its inception in Honolulu some months ago, will culminate tomorrow evening when Capt. Eugene Robinson, 25th Infantry, U. S. A., and Miss Serena Maddux, formerly of Santa Rosa, Cal., are married in St. Clement's church, Makiki.

Miss Maddux, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Maddux of Santa Rosa, has been a teacher in the Punahou preparatory school for the last year.

At the ceremony tomorrow evening Miss Maddux will be attended by Mrs. Stanton Wyatt as matron of honor, and will be given away by Mr. Wyatt. Lieut. Howard Milligan will attend Capt. Robinson as best man. The ushers will be Lieuts. Witzel and Simmons.

After the ceremony the wedding party will attend a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dana Wright, Waikiki. Following a brief honeymoon in the country the couple will be at home at the barracks.

HILO PURPOSES WELCOME FOR FEDERAL OFFICIALS

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)

HILO, July 6.—Within a week or so from the present time, the board of trade of Hilo will give a dinner in honor of the United States judicial officials who will be in Honolulu at that time. The entertainment and dinner committee of the board of trade is handling the affair.

The visit of the federal court officials to Hilo will mark a new era for this city, as the federal court of Hilo will be used for the first time.

Judge Vaughan is already here, but Judge Poindexter and United States District Attorney Huber are to arrive in the near future.

BIJOU TO SELL SHRINERS' FLOUR

To sell a sack of flour for $1000 and still to retain the sack is the desire of Aloha Temple, Mystic Shrine. The Shriners will not retain the funds, however, but forward them to the Red Cross society. The sack of flour, which has been consistently sold at a number of mainland points, will be "disposed" of at the Bijou theater tomorrow evening, as a special added feature to the regular big program of vaudeville and photodrama. The Shriners are expected to be on hand in goodly numbers. Another added feature will be the showing of a Shrine parade film.

The regular program at the Bijou includes three vaudeville acts and a Vitaphone Blue Ribbon feature, "Whom the Gods Destroy." Alice Joyce, supported by Marc MacDermott and Harry T. Morey, is the star of the offering, which deals with a civil war—not out own—in which the two men are followers of Mags and also of Cupid, both being in love with the one girl. There are intermingled in this drama all of the emotions of the human race. It is a story into which has been woven a tragedy that is softened by love and sympathy.

STORY OF INDIA TOLD AT HAWAII

The fascinating atmosphere of the Orient is almost discernable in the current feature film at the Hawaii theater, "The Beggar of Cawnpore." So realistic is the work of H. B. Warner, star of the offering and carrying the title role, that the initiated can readily appreciate the course traveled by the beggar, from the time he is left alone in a fever-stricken section of the interior of India—then a promising young army physician—until he reaches the lowest depths through the use of morphine and later its derivative—hashish.

There is a fascination in the story of how the young doctor and an army officer are authors for the same hand and heart. How the officer induces the doctor to return to the drug habit which was cultivated by loneliness and a fear of the plague. How the Sepoy mutiny finds the army officer and his wife—the girl—residents in Cawnpore and how the officer proves a traitor and a coward and is shot down by his own soldiers while the drug-besotted beggar, learning of the girl's plight, reclaims himself, goes to her rescue and eventually receives his desired reward.

The drama is considerably lightened by the Keystone Comedy which shows Joe Jackson and Claire Anderson in "The Lion and the Girl," nothing but a couple of reels of real laughs.
